NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS

Marilyn Ackerman is assistant branch librarian at the Carroll Gardens Branch of Brooklyn Public Library in New York and for the past 5 years has been involved in children's services.

Sanford Berman is head cataloger at Hennepin County Library in Minnesota and is co-editor of the Alternative Library Literature anthology published bi-annually by McFarland.

John Buschman is a reference librarian at Rider College in New Jersey and is editor of the forthcoming Greenwood publication Critical Approaches to Information Technology in Librarianship: Background and Perspectives.

Michael H. Harris is professor of library and information science at the University of Kentucky and has a new book coming out in the Fall from Ablex, Into the Future: The Foundations of Library and Information Service in the Post-Industrial Era.

Noha Ismail is a reference librarian at Hennepin County Library. A Palestinian by birth, she was a member of the Palestinian delegation to the United Nation's Decade for Women's Conference in Nairobi, and serves on the executive board of the American Arab Anti-Discrimination Committee.

Ebba I. Johnson is a retired librarian living in Minneapolis. She was born and educated in Sweden and has written on the Folk High School movement.

Al Kagan is a reference librarian at Homer Babidge Library at the University of Connecticut-Storrs.

Peter McDonald is librarian for the Core Literature in Agriculture Project at Cornell University in New York and has participated in several conferences critical of the Quincentennial celebrations.

Lennart Wettmark is a Swedish librarian active in BIS.